If you fill in the card info below, we will process and charge your card inhouse and usually after we are sure of the totals, your math, and have adjusted your order for items that are possibly out of stock.

If you use the PayPal link below (you do NOT need a paypal account to use this link) your card will be charged immediately and securely processed by PayPal. Your choice. If you choose to use the PayPal link, and your math is off or something is out of stock, we will refund or adjust your payment and then either charge you more, or refund the balance due via PayPal. If you want any refunds to go back to the credit card used for the purchase, I would suggest not using the PayPal option.
